Re: Protocol for resuming “in-person” sessions

Due to the ongoing impact of COVID-19, we are implementing the following changes when we resume “in-person” counseling sessions. Our goal is to create and maintain a safe and healthy setting for you and for our clinicians.

Our counseling offices are reopening for in-person sessions after June 15th. Your counselor will keep you informed. Telehealth sessions will remain available by phone and/or video if you'd prefer that option.

First, we are closing our small waiting area and moving chairs in the hallway and spacing them further apart. Please respect social distancing guidelines and wear a mask while waiting for your appointment.

Second, we are scheduling sessions with more time between appointments to minimize exposure and to allow cleaning between appointments.

Third, during your session wearing a mask is advised and preferable, but not required. If you have any symptoms of illness, please reschedule your appointment.

Fourth, all clients and clinicians will use hand sanitizer before and after sessions. No handshakes or hugs.

Fifth, we know everyone has restroom needs. Please try to help us avoid the spread of germs by using our restrooms only when necessary. Your Clinician will be the one who is keeping the restrooms cleaned and sanitized.

Thank you for your patience and consideration during this time. We continue to pray God's healing and protecting hand on you all.
